LOCAL MAN PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT

John Wyatt Acknowledges He Stole a Watch Valued At $29.50 From Mike Carnotsky, Trading the Same For Moonshine

DRUNK WHEN HE TOOK IT

Wyatt Is a One-Legged Man and a Marine Engineer And Is Reputed to Be a Good Worker When Not Drinking — Other Cases Before the Court

John Wyatt of this place, pleaded guilty in court at Washington yesterday to stealing a watch valued at $29.50 from Mike Carnotsky which he later traded to William Abel for moonshine. He was very frank in his statement to the court, saying that he had no knowledge of having taken the watch, but did not deny that he had found it in his pocket. He said that he was drunk at the time. He is a one-legged man and a marine engineer and reputed to be a good worker when not drinking. He has been in jail since September 29 and was sentenced to three months in jail to date from the time of his commitment. If he can get aid in securing an artificial leg, he promised to get to work after being released from jail.

Jess Miller, a colored lad of 20 years, who hails from North Carolina, pleaded guilty to the theft of a coat and hat, pair of shoes, and an overcoat, total value of $72, from two workers in the road camp in Amwell township on the night of October 10. He was given five to ten months, on the two counts, to the workhouse.

The following who entered pleas of guilty to violations of the liquor laws were given the following sentences: Andy Luski, Donora, unlawful possession, costs, $100 fine and 50 days to jail, to be reduced to 25 days; if fine and costs are paid; Vincent Bania, Eldersville, unlawful manufacture, costs, $100 fine and 30 days to jail, to be reduced to 20 if fine and costs are paid; Minnie Baroskie, Bentleyville, unlawful manufacture, was paroled for one year. She is a widow with three children to support.

Albert Moore, of Washington, for driving a car while intoxicated, was given a fine of $200 and five days to jail. Steve Ladiko and Paul Roycan, for violation of the mining law, were given fines of $15 each. Both had taken smoking materials into the mine at Ellsworth.

Albert Blackstone, steward of the Donora Moose club, was fined $200 for operating a punch board and giving five months to jail.

Paul Mitovich, aged 35 years, of Bentleyville, held in connection with the killing at Weavertown on April 13, of Spiro Maronich and Joe Zek, pleaded guilty to murder in the second degree and was sentenced to from three and one-half to seven years in the Western penitentiary.

The killing of Maronich and Zek was the sequel to a drunken fight in which two other men were involved, Steve and Carl Stantolock, brothers. Maronich was stabbed to death, it is alleged, by Carl Stantolock, who has not been apprehended, and Zek was shot to death by Milkovich. Steve Stantolock is still held in jail awaiting the apprehension of his brother.

All three men were held by the coroner's jury for the crime, but only two of them were arrested. Carl Stantolock having made his getaway. Milkovich pleaded guilty to the killing of Zek and the case against Steve Stantolock has been continued until the other man is located.

PAPER OF 1847 UNEARTHED BY CITY ASSESSOR

Butler, Nov. 4.—Yellow with age and quite legible, a copy of the "Indiana State Sentinel," a newspaper published at Indianapolis, bearing the date of July 29, 1847, has been unearthed by City Assessor John C. Clark.

The newspaper contains advertisement of Dr. McLane's liver pills, and Bragg's Indian Queen sugar coated pills, leaving the impression that pills were very much in demand in those days.

The paper relates the news of the day, apparently from 10 days to two weeks after the event occurred, in brief form. One story tells about the hesitancy of General Taylor to be the Republican party's candidate for president.

Heaviest Vote In History of State Expected Today

IS SURVEYING FOR PROPOSED CITY LINE

Yesterday morning, Thomas Fennie, city engineer of Monessen, began making preliminary survey for the new city line. For a number of years there has been talk of annexing additional territory to the city in an effort to develop certain outlying sections and to afford people just outside of the present boundary line advantages of city government. The development committee of the Board of Trade has had the matter under consideration and many trips have been made over the land by various committees, but no decision has ever been reached as to exactly what should be done.

There are many difficult problems to be faced in a movement of this kind, and it is generally known that there will be considerable expense attached on account of correcting past mistakes, such as straightening the streets in Dutchtown and making them intersect with Monessen thoroughfares. This will require taking over certain pieces of property for the use of the city, but the benefits derived to the people living in this outlying section will be lasting.

The matter of diversion so as to care for the education of the children now attending small township schools is another matter of very great importance and must be worked out in conjunction with the township school officials. There are many advantages and disadvantages being considered in the making of the preliminary surveys and the actual annexation is a matter that is merely being looked into at this time in planning a future program of development for Monessen.

Death Comes To Man While Sitting In Chair

Joseph Lombardo, aged 31 years, of rear 703 Fallowfield avenue, son of Samuel Lombardo of 627 Fallowfield avenue, died suddenly yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock while sitting in a chair at his home. Death was due to an acute stroke of the heart.

The deceased, who owned and managed a barber shop in Roscoe, had been confined to his home for several days on account of an attack of bronchitis, and his death was entirely unexpected, and a great shock to his family and many friends. This death makes the fourth within 17 months that has occurred in the Lombardo family, the mother passing away only a month ago.

The deceased leaves besides his father, a young bride of two months, Mrs. Jenny Savasta Lombardo, one brother Andrew, and four sisters, Miss Anna Clara, at home, Mrs. Lena Petix of Washington avenue, Mrs. Theresa Sperrazza of Buffalo, N. Y., and Mrs. Ingros Concettina of Punxsutawney, Pa.

Funeral services will take place Thursday morning at 9:30 from the late home with requiem high mass at St. Jerome's Catholic church at 10 o'clock. Interment will follow in Calvary cemetery.

BOY LOSES CASE WHEN APPEALED

According to a telegram received in Monessen, the second appeal in the case of John Gregac was denied by the California Court Appeals.

Gregac is a Monessen boy, who was convicted in the state of California of being an accomplice in a holdup and murder of a California business man. Three boys, one of them Gregac, were convicted last November and have been in prison ever since awaiting sentence of death.

Monessen friends of the lad have been endeavoring to have his sentence lightened, as the other two boys convicted have made affidavit that Gregac was not concerned in the murder. However, the laws of California holds an accomplice to be equally guilty with the principal, and hence Gregac was found guilty in the first degree. Friends are hopeful for governor executive clemency, to the extent at least of foregoing the death sentence imposed.

DOG CAUSE OF AN ACCIDENT

Donald Mounts, aged 25 years, a resident of Washington, who was critically wounded in a hunting accident near Waynesburg last Saturday, is reported as slightly improved in the Washington hospital.

A dog leaping up as he attempted to place a rabbit in the hunting bag of a companion, is thought to have discharged Mounts' weapon. He had placed it across his knee and the safety lock had not been set as a precaution.

Mounts was taken to the Washington hospital Saturday evening. His condition has been such that an operation could not be performed to remove portions of his clothing which had been carried into his left side by the force of the shot. The entire contents of the shell struck him under the left arm and shoulder, inflicting a terrible wound. Being a young man, said to be of good physique, and in good health, is in favor of the wounded man.

CHARLEROI MAY BECOME A CITY OF THIRD-CLASS

This movement for a city of the third class here calls for the following comment from the Monongahela Republican.

"The Chamber of Commerce of Charleroi, which is one of the most active organizations of its kind in the state, is discussing the project of making Charleroi a Third Class city. At a meeting in the municipal building on Thursday night, a motion was passed authorizing the president of the chamber to appoint a committee of five representative citizens who would thoroughly investigate the matter, by visiting other Third Class cities, and formulate a report as to the wisdom of making the change. Blaine B. Fox, who is president of the chamber will take a little time to select his committee, and the names will be announced later. When this committee is appointed, we invite them to come down to Monongahela, which is the Model Third Class city in this end of the state, and we shall be glad to show them all the beauties of that form of government. Charleroi is certainly in line for advancement to the Third Class City Class."

Is Held In Jail Charged With False Pretense

J. C. Young, aged 39, of Monongahela, was placed in jail last night on a charge of false pretense in connection with a real estate transaction, the accusation against him being made by Mr. and Mrs. John Wilchinski of Nottingham township.

It is charged that Young sold them a piece of property in the Ginger Hill district, the title to which he knew was faulty. Mr. and Mrs. Wilchinski claim they paid him $1,500. They alleged that Young had no title to the property was not clear, and that he knew there was an execution against it at the time he sold it to them.

FUNERAL OF THE RODDY YOUTH HELD TOMORROW

Funeral services for Thomas Roddy, aged 22, who died in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital as the result of a bullet wound inflicted by Constable William Roy at a football game staged Sunday afternoon between Charleroi Ramblers and the Elco Comets, will take place tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock with requiem high mass at St. Jerome's Catholic church. Interment will follow in Calvary cemetery.

Shooting Can Be Traced, It Is Alleged, To A Family Feud

Apocryphal the shooting of John H. Croft, aged 35 years, of California, a veteran of the World War, who was shot and instantly killed on Sunday at the home of Stephen Chubbey, in Jefferson township, Fayette county, in which Mrs. Susie Chubbey, aged 25 years, wife of Stephen Chubbey, is being held as his alleged slayer, the police say that the crime can be traced to a family feud, of which the dead man was innocent.

Sunday morning, Elizabeth Chubbey, 19 years old, a sister of Stephen Chubbey, and Clinton Herwalter, a brother-in-law, went to an apple orchard near Stephen Chubbey's home. Stephen and his wife, Susie, went to the orchard later and a controversy over picked apples resulted in a free-for-all fight in which Stephen and his wife were beaten. Stephen Chubbey returned home, procured a gun, and with his wife, lay in wait in a nearby thicket for Herwalter and Elizabeth Chubbey.

Craft, deciding to visit the Chubbey boys, whom he had known for years, went to the place in the afternoon. With Elizabeth Chubbey he visited the same orchard to pick apples, and later went with the girl to Stephen Chubbey's home for a basket. Stephen opened the door, leveled a rifle at his sister, Elizabeth, and fired. The girl escaped injury and Croft, leaping upon Stephen, sought to disarm him. In the struggle the men rolled into a room where Susie Chubbey sat. The woman procured another gun, the county authorities say, and shot Croft in the chest, killing him instantly.

PLANS NEARLY COMPLETE FOR BIG BAZAAR

Plans are about completed for the great bazaar to be held by the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit No. 22, during Armistice week, starting Monday, November 10, the Dugout to be the scene of the many festivities.

The first thing on the program is the card party for Monday evening, bridge and 500 to be played. Mrs. Fred W. Brady is in charge of this particular feature.

There will be a number of booths displaying many beautiful articles as follows: Apron booth, with Mrs. Sue Lasserty as chairlady; towel and handkerchief, Mrs. Alice Wood; Orange tree booth, Mrs. Minnie Mazzei; Poppy Garden booth, Mrs. Bess Collins; general fancy work booth, Mrs. ...

booth will be opened on Saturday as an additional feature.

There will be special attractions every evening of the week. On Friday and Saturday there will be a palmist present.

The proceeds of the affair will go towards helping the disabled soldiers.

AUTHENTICITY OF LETTER MAY CAUSE RESIGNATION DELAY

London, Nov. 4.—Delay in the investigation of the authenticity of the Zinoviev letter may mean corresponding delay in resignation of the Labor government. It was thought possible today that Prime Minister MacDonald would postpone resigning until tomorrow morning.

The cabinet committee was in session investigating the source of the Zinoviev letter, which had so much to do with the overwhelming nature of Labor's defeat at the polls last week. If the committee finished its work, the cabinet was to meet and set a time for resigning.

SCHOOL BOARD IN FIGHT OVER A BOND ISSUE

The School board of Greensburg is in a fight over the proposition to vote on a $600,000 bond issue for a new high school building. Albert M. Bell, prominent attorney, is opposing the issue as a member of the board and has led the minority into a newspaper discussion, while Paul S. Barnhart, et al are in favor of the issue and are leading the progressive movement for the new high school building. The voters are called upon to register their wishes in the matter at the general election today. A divided board seems to stand in the way of the success of the issue and may be the means of depriving the community of increased educational facilities.

Greensburg has long since been in need of additional school facilities, especially since the decision that the school must accept non-resident students that apply for admission. An effort was put forth to get rid of the overflow caused by admitting outside scholars and the school board carried the case through the lower to the higher courts, but both courts held the act of assembly under which Greensburg was incorporated as a borough and the agreement entered into at that time would compel high school facilities sufficient for all who might desire to enroll.

The issue is one that the school board must meet and a majority of the board decided to ask for a bond issue large enough to provide ample money for a new and modern school building well equipped. Two of the members have opposed every move that has been made and the issue now goes before the people today for a decision.

PRESIDENT GETS EVERY VOTE—8, IN SOMERSET, VERMONT

Somerset, Vermont, Nov. 4.—Calvin Coolidge received every presidential ballot cast in the little town of Somerset, Vermont, today. Only 8 votes were cast. Four years ago Warren G. Harding polled 20 votes and James M. Cox 12.

Prospects For a Large Vote Are Exceedingly Flattering, i. e., There Are 881 Ballots Cast Up to the Noon Hour Here

COOLIDGE IS FAVORED

Betting is strong that the President will Be Returned the Winner — Conservative Republicans Predict Coolidge Will Get 300 Electoral Votes

Unusual activity was to be noted at the polling places in Charleroi today, for up to noon hour, there were 881 ballots cast. This is a well-nigh unprecedented record for a forenoon's voting, and presages that practically the entire voting strength of the borough will be in evidence.

The preponderance of opinion in the borough is that Coolidge and Davis will be elected that the state legislature and the various state offices will be filled by Republicans, and that the next Congress will be safely Republican, thus assuring President Coolidge an opportunity to carry out his policies for the general good of the nation.

New York, Nov. 4.—Calvin Coolidge ruled a strong favorite in the betting today as the American people once more trekked to the polls to elect their president.

With fair weather general, however, and an increased registration that forecast the greatest vote in history, it was conceivable that the final decision would rest with between 3,000,000 and 6,000,000 voters, casting their ballots for the first time this year. The unknown trend of this vote caused vastly more uncertainty about the outcome today than there was two weeks ago.

The most cheer for the Democrats that the New York World (strongly for John W. Davis) could muster in its headlines, was the following: "Coolidge victory forecast, 'Though Upset is possible.'"

Such wage as were placed as the actual voting began today were on the number of electoral votes each candidate would get. Some money was placed on ability to name four states that La Follette would carry. Those who ventured a risk on this selected Wisconsin, North and South Dakota and Minnesota, with some favoring Nebraska and Montana as among the possibilities.

It was conceded generally that La Follette would not get the electoral vote that was won by Theodore Roosevelt in 1912 when he ran second to Woodrow Wilson with 88 votes in the electoral college, but there was great interest in observing whether La Follette would poll the popular vote of over 4,000,000 polled for Roosevelt in that election.

With 266 electoral votes necessary to win, Conservative Republican forecast not less than 300 for Coolidge while optimistic Democratic spokesmen figure Davis to win with between 230 and 300.

SUNDAY'S FATALITY.

While the facts will be more clearly borne out at the coroner's inquest, sufficient is known of Sunday's tragedy, whereby a Charleroi youth had his life snuffed out at the hands of an officer of the law, too ready to shoot because he had a gun.

There are many requests developing on a true and efficient officer of the law. True, he must be armed, for at least two primordial reasons: the one to effect arrests and shoot if necessary; and the other, he must be armed for self-protection. But the officer of the law must learn first of all, what his duties as a minion are, and under what provocation he is justified in pulling his gun and firing at a man he is trying to place under arrest.

An officer of the law, to be efficient, to subserve the duties of his calling, must be level-headed, cool in mind and in thought, ever ready for the unexpected, and to use his prerogatives as an officer with calm and deliberate judgment. He must be brave, but not foolhardy. He must be a man conscious of the great trust in him imposed by the public; for, being a constable, a policeman, an officer of the law in whatever sphere requires men of special adaptability, and not men to be chosen who are out of a job and are selected, as they are at times, for political reason, because they have brown, sympathy, or friendship. An officer of the law need not be a high school graduate to qualify, but he must have brains in deductive genius, know criminals, and to use his powers with judgment, which seems to have been lacking in the regrettable shooting affair of Sunday.

We can sympathize with those who have loved and lost; the shooting of a boy just entering life when manhood's morning touches the noon hour is to be deplored, but these things will not recall the deed and its consequences. The responsibility, it seems to us, lies largely with the public, and in civic bodies, who ratify the selection of men, who, outwardly, good citizens as was the Elco constable, are, nevertheless, devoid of those talents, ripened by experience which properly qualify the efficient public official servant.

CAMPAIGNING WITHOUT MONEY

To show how a political campaign can be run cheaply, in an era of the high cost of everything, seems to be in aim on the part of William Allen White second only to his determination to knock out the Ku Klux Klan in Kansas. He is not only running as an independent Republican candidate (because the regular Republican candidate is Klan dominated and the anti-Klan Democratic candidate does not please him) but by his own account he is doing it without spending any money except for gasoline. He reports that every week he takes $25 out of his cash register of his Emporia Gazette and that at the end of the week he has "$7, $4, or $3 left." Presumably the explanation is that his headquarters and "room" him as he moves over the State; doubtless he speaks mostly in the open and rarely hires a hall, or his supporters do this and other things for him.

This unusual campaigner is thus noted: "After I've traveled over this state in a dilapidated automobile, going over skiddy, rocky, hilly, bumpy roads on dark rainy nights; after I have lost my voice in begging for votes, and also lost every friend I had, I get the blamed thing I'm going to keep it." As he describes himself as just a short, fat, baldheaded man, it is suggested that one "blamed thing" is after, in the hardships of his incessant roamings, is to "redneck." His reported experiences give promise of attainment of this object even if he should fail to roll up a majority on his mind ticket and thus put himself in a position to extinguish the hated order which he started out to get.

DeMarco Took The "Pep" Out of O'Brien In Slow Fight Last Night

Cuddy DeMarco, at Motor Square Garden last night, proved his class and proved beyond the peradventure of a doubt that the decision which Pep O'Brien got over him was in the nature of a fluke; for O'Brien is certainly not in DeMarco's class; the local boy must have been out of condition, or careless, maybe a little of both. At any rate, Cuddy had it easy throughout the mill and could have ended the battle, doubtless, at any time. However, he wanted to give the fans a "run for their money," and toyed with O'Brien, winning the bout hands-down.

DeMarco proved last night that he is a boxer and fighter to rank with the best of them. The question on everybody's lips was, "How did O'Brien ever beat Cuddy when they fought before?"

O'Brien is a puncher and that ends it. If he lands his haymaker, there is likely to be trouble, but Cuddy wouldn't let him land it last night. O'Brien, by virtue of his flooring Lew Tender for a count of nine, came to Pittsburgh with a shining reputation. But he looked like a novice beside the skillful Charleroi boy, and the showing which he made was really pitiable, and the main bout, aside from DeMarco's skill displayed, was really uninteresting, in that it was so one-sided. The fight last night settled O'Brien as far as being a worthy opponent of Cuddy.

The best bout of the evening was between Tony Ross of Carnegie and Frankie Stellmack of Cleveland. Stellmack proved a tough, rough, milling customer, but Ross showed himself to be game, at all times giving the Cleveland puncher plenty of trouble. In the second round Ross caught a hard right to the jaw and dropped to one knee for a second but was up in a flash. He evened the score in the final round by dropping Stellmack. The bout is good for a return engagement, any time. Stellmack got the decision, but Ross lost none of his prestige in his action as he proved himself a good fighter.

In the second bout, Young Penno of McKees Rocks had the best of Walter Dickerson of California. Penno showed himself to be a stiff body puncher and had Dickerson in distress on a number of occasions. Walter was back for more at all times, however, and it was all Penno could do to get the decision. In fact, the judges disagreed, one calling it a draw while the others gave it to Penno. The referee sided with Penno.

The first bout ended suddenly in the second round after Jimmy Corbett of Youngstown had the edge on Kid Carpenter in the first frame. Carpenter caught Corbett with a hard right in the second and put him down for the count of nine. It was then only a question of time until Carpenter landed again. He did, and this time Corbett stayed down and out.

The weights for the evening were: DeMarco, 137½; O'Brien, 136; Ross, 136; Stellmack, 136½; Penno, 142; Dickerson, 141; Carpenter, 129; Corbett, 126.

The judges were Harry (Bull) Brown and Lou Meninger. Eddie Kennedy refereed the first and semi-final bouts and Joe Keally the second and final affairs.

Next week Jack Zivic of Lawrenceville will meet Nate Goldman of Philadelphia.

LEONARD'S LAURELS THREATENED BY MANY ASPIRANTS

The heads of inactive wearers of pugilistic crowns will lie uneasy this week as strong rivals put into the throne rooms on the way to battle for the right to challenge.

The most seriously threatened will be Benny Leonard, ruler of the lightweight for many years. On Friday night at Madison Square Garden, New York, Sammy Mandell of Rockford will meet Jack Bernstein of Yonkers for the third time. The winner of this bout will be matched with the victor in the Sid Terris-Luis Vicentini fight arranged for November 28.

The ultimate winner of the informal tournament will emerge as the logical challenger to Leonard and in the opinion of many critics here, will probably be the next champion. There are doubts of the ability of Leonard to make the lightweight limit again, and a conviction that he will be beaten if he does.

Vicentini is the bitter, Terris the flash, Mandell the best rounded fighter, and Bernstein the veteran of the challengers. Mandell and Terris are favored to meet in the final.

Among the flyweights, with Champion Pancho Villa forced into semi-retirement by an edict of the State Athletic Commission, Al Brown, a wiry Panamanian, will make his "downtown" debut in New York next week against Tommy Milton. The two lads are regarded as the best of the flyweight aspirants. Brown looks good to the majority of sports writers here, and if he defeats Milton he may be matched with Frankie Genaro.

The third threat, though yet vague is to Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, now in New York "flitting the footlights." Sully Montromery, former Centre College football player, will meet Quentin Romero, a heavyweight tournament at the Garden Wednesday evening. Pat Lester and Tony Fuente, coast sensations, will be brought along later to meet the winners of the tournament.

The much-discussed match between Romero and Louis Firpo may become possible before January 1 if Romero survives his tests up to that time, assuming that Firpo defeats Charlie Weinert in their Newark battle November 12.

Team is Rounding Into Shape for Game With California on Saturday

It was announced last evening that Chas. De Hainant star center on the Red and Black team would be in condition to start Saturday's game if Coach tepanin desires to use him. This report is encouraging as the Lock Four boy has played a "bang up" game in every contest this year until injured in the Monessen game.

A snappy drill was held yesterday behind closed gates and the boys are showing that dash and spirit that characterized their workouts of a few weeks ago.

Fans will never fully appreciate the poor physical condition the 1923 team was in the day they defeated California 6-0. At least three men in the line-up should never have started the game. Conditions this year are reversed as the physical condition of the team at present is very good. Morale is a good thing and the reserve strength is in perfect condition. All that is needed now is one hour of play that the team displayed during the last half of the California Normal Reserve game and the result of Saturday's game should bring Charleroi High school in ahead at the final whistle. Whether this mental attitude is to be reached by Saturday remains to be seen.

A meeting was held at the Borough building last evening and four of Charleroi High School's loyal boosters made plans for raising subscriptions for a band for the California game on Saturday, the Monongahela City game and the Thanksgiving morning game at Monessen with Donora High School. S. L. Woodward, Lambert Heaton, "Elly" Kuhn and Roy Balmer were men who started the ball rolling and they are determined to arouse their fellow townsmen and make Saturday a day to be remembered. A parade will be held starting at the Pennsylvania Railroad station to the field and all loyal Charleroi fans are asked to take part. Further plans regarding the parade will be announced later.

The local police force will be reinforced by a dozen special police and Chief Murphy who will direct this squad will put in a busy afternoon as the crowd, if the weather continues fair, will probably eclipse any former crowd in the history of local high school athletic contests.

The game will start promptly at three o'clock and Charleroi fans are urged to be on hand early. Parking space will be available inside the field as long as there is any room available. Let it be definitely understood by local fans that the admission charge has not been raised. Prof. R. G. Dean called Faculty Manager Copeland on Friday inquiring as to whether the price of admission had been raised to one dollar as had been rumored at California. This rumor is entirely false.

The officials for Saturday's game are as follows: Referee—Story. Umpire—Mates. Linesman—Evans.

A Tory government follows the Labor government in Great Britain, where the pendulum of politics is subject to rather extreme swings.

BRUNSWICK A. C. IS BEATEN BY MONESSEN PEERLESS TEAM 13-0

A perfect running, smooth hitting Peerless machine, out-classed outplayed and out-smarted a hard fighting, desperate Brunswick eleven, by the tune of thirteen to nothing at the Charleroi Ball Park, Saturday.

Battered down by constant hammerings the Brunswick line weakened, so Schradling and Sichi gained at will. The Brunswicks played a stubborn game, poor in running with the ball, and their generalship was bad. Lang looked to be the best for the Brunswicks on the offense. Gaining around the ends only to be stopped by lack of interference.

Coach O'Brien saw that his ends were weak, so he sent in Joe Mall and "Putzie" Chacko, to check the Peerless end runs, in which they did in a very neat way. "Putzie" was in his old time form, and stopped plays after plays coming around his end, and the same was done by Mall. This was the first game played by these two men this season, but a great deal will be heard of "Putzie" before the season closes.

Steve Hazuka, the Brunswicks sensational center, was the individual star, breaking through the Peerless line and throwing his enemies for a loss. It was his playing that prevented the Peerless from scoring more points. J. Cruel played a good game on a line, also Micklos and Brennick, while Spridlik, Lang and "Head" Nandor, gained at certain intervals. For the Peerless they all shined, hitting hard, running with the ball very smoothly and their ferocious tackling put some thrills in the spectators.

The Brunswicks showed practically the same faults that were evident against the Mohawks. There was a hesitancy about the attacks, the team as a whole endures signs of extreme fatigue, which befalls the majority of Independent teams.

Some changes may be made in the Brunswick lineup. Coach O'Brien has not been satisfied with the way his team has been playing in the last couple of games, and hopes the changes in the lineup will strengthen the team for the coming games.

Nobody seems to have remembered that a four-footed politician figured in the Uncle Remus tale who sometimes, in the pursuit of his seeming best interests, "kep' on sayin' nothin'."

The following poem was written by John Bosson of Junior High School.

BEAT CALIFORNIA

California is coming here to play our team, They will get beat, that is our theme. They will do their best to beat Our Boys, But Charleroi will play with them like toys.

We've got Paterline, Torbert, O'Brien and Crabb. The four fastest backfield men you ever could nab.

On the line we have Sheppard, Johns, DeHainant and Chacko.

Where you could find better linemen we don't know.

When Crabb gets the ball, he runs like a Wildman, While Wildman sits on the bench—and watches the Crabb.

We also have Crytzer, the line plunger, you know. When he hits the line, it goes to and fro.

Torbert is just a high school kid— However, he made the high school grid. He hasn't had much experience in football. But he is an outstanding star this fall.

Paterline comes from Lock No. 4. He has lots of fun and is never sore. He plunges the line with all his might— He can catch forward passes, left or right.

Our "Captain" is O'Brien— He seldom hits the line. He makes those pretty long end runs That California wouldn't take as fun.

Crabb needs no introduction here, For California knows what to fear.

Charleroi has plenty of good subs— Who aren't what you could call corn-fed scrubs. Give them a chance in California's game, And California will go home, beaten and lame.

Victory is assured, because DeHainant is cured. Come out and cheer, and we will win again this year.

The Personal Side

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert W. Barker of Pittsburgh today.

Misses Mattie Kelley of McKean avenue and Mable Baker of Crest avenue are visitors in Pittsburgh today.

Mrs. Kathryn A. Niver of Philadelphia, a former resident of this place, is visiting among friends in Charleroi.

Henry Wolfe of Uniontown, is visiting at the home of his granddaughter, Mrs. L. C. Grimes of Lincoln avenue this week.

W. R. Craven, an employee of the Woodward Furniture and Carpet company, is enjoying a weeks vacation on a hunting trip.

Mrs. Susan A. Bateman, who has been confined to her home in McKean avenue on account of illness for the past few days, is much improved.

Othmar J. Long, Miss Mary Ann Celaschi and Miss Catherine Vezzetti of Charleroi, were issued a marriage license in Washington yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Worthington and Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Worthington and daughter Edna left last Saturday by motor for Clarion county, where they will visit for the week. During this time both Mr. Worthingtons will enjoy hunting in that section.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Mormino and family, former residents of many years of this place, who have been living in Buffalo, New York, for the past several years, have moved back to Charleroi and will take up their former residence, 701 Fallowfield avenue.

Miss Eleanor Bake of Woodland avenue and Miss Clete Kappenberger of Shady avenue, spent the week end in Johnstown, where they attended the State Sabbath School convention. Miss Bake prolonged her visit over Sunday being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Rush Mountier of Bellevue.

Mrs. John B. Schafer and daughter Anna of McKean avenue, left this morning for Pittsburgh to visit several days with Miss Rose Klein. Mrs. Schafer will return to Charleroi tomorrow, but Miss Anna will go to Brookville and visit her aunt, Mrs. Martin Klein for several weeks.

Frank B. Burwell expects to leave for his new field of activity at Warren, Pa., this evening. He has been manager of the Charleroi district of the Bell Telephone company for the past 18 years, and the change which is unexpected, is in the nature of promotion. His successor is J. H. Hoffman of Pittsburgh.

PROSPECTOR PLANS TO USE AIRPLANE

Radio Will Also Serve in Diamond Fields.

New York.—Diamond mining in the mountain jungles of British Guiana by means of airplanes and radio is the new venture disclosed recently by James T. Rogers, explorer and diamond prospector of British Guiana, and Dr. A. L. Clark of Toronto, aviator. Mr. Rogers is here to organize the expedition, which will start probably later in the year and consist of ten members, including one additional aviator, one radio operator and two commercial geologists and engineers.

The South American has been into the backlands of British Guiana many times and owns several mineral concessions there. His determination never to go back unless he could go by airplane was reached during his last trip, when, on the way, every member of his party but himself was lost and $17,000 worth of diamonds sank to the bottom of the Mazurum river.

At the present moment his brother, John Rogers, with one companion has been lost for several months in the jungle and has been reported as dead. As the results of his last trip, William Lewis, mining engineer, of Learnington, Ontario, lies buried at Enachu, and Henry Geneiss, engineer, of Bedford, Mass., lies at Barficia Grove. Both died of exposure to tropical conditions while they were being taken back to civilization in the effort to save them.

"Despite the treasures of the backlands of British Guiana, which were reported as far back as Sir Walter Raleigh's time, conditions are such that there is no rush of prospectors similar to the Klondike," Mr. Rogers said. "Yet there are men who brave the great hardships of the trip, and government reports show that considerable wealth in diamonds has been brought back from the place."

"One of the by-products of our airplane investment is going to be transporting other prospectors back and forth from the coast to the mountains. We feel that we shall have as much carrying work as we can handle in the transportation end of our venture."

In Society's Realm

The second annual Junior Hadassah Unity dance will be held Wednesday evening November 12 in the George Washington hotel ball room at Washington. The Penn Shore orchestra will furnish the music from nine until one. Arrangements are being made to take care of a large crowd and it is expected that a number of local people will be in attendance.

Mrs. Joseph Cotta of Third street entertained the members of the Monday evening 500 club with a masquerade party at her home last evening. Favors were awarded Mrs. Albert Ludwig and Mrs. Frank Webb. At a late hour a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. John Dolan of North street Monday evening.

Miss Genevieve McMahon of Fallowfield avenue was hostess to the regular bimonthly meeting of the Monday evening 500 club at her home with a full attendance present. An enjoyable evening was spent in dancing, singing and sewing, followed by the serving of a dainty luncheon served by the hostess assisted by her sister, Miss Margaret. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Della Fellows, Fallowfield avenue, Monday, November 17.

The interior of the George Cook home of North Charleroi was beautifully decorated last night in keeping with the Halloween season, making a suitable scene for the party held in honor of Mrs. Russell Crabb. Forty guests were present and spent a delightful evening in games Mrs. Jessie Haslet, Mazie and Agnes Iram and Mrs. Anna Gillingham of Riverview, were the out-of-town guests present. A dainty luncheon, served by the hostess, Mrs. Cook, brought the delightful evening to a close.

The Just-For-Fun club held their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Russell Crabb, North Charleroi, Wednesday evening October 29 with a full attendance and four visitors present. The guests were Halliwell and the decorations were of Orange and Black, in keeping with the season. Favors were awarded Mrs. Simon and Mrs. L. Horvath. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess. The next regular meeting of the club will be held at the home of Mrs. L. Gamble of North Charleroi.

Last night the members of the Monday Musical club met in their regular monthly session at the Elks club with a good attendance. The following splendid program of sacred music was given in the Community room "Gates of the Temple" sung by Vivian Beazell; "Thou Exalted," a duet, sung by Thelma Lowmister and Ethel Barth; "Largo" by Handel, piano solo by Audrey McHenry; violin selection, Ha Cymbally; piano solo, Mrs. Mary Smith. In conclusion a dainty luncheon was served in the dining room, the hostesses being, Grace Anderson, Florence Barger, Irene Wilson and Edna Welch.

OLDEST MEMBER OF ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH DIES

Mrs. Annie Cairns, aged 70 years, wife of the late Andrew Cairns, died yesterday morning at 11:45 o'clock, following a two-day illness at her late home in Roscoe. Mrs. Cairns was a beloved resident of Roscoe for the past thirty years, and was the oldest member of St. Joseph's Catholic church of that place. She was also the oldest member of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the A. O. H.

There survive the following children: John, Andrew, Francis of Roscoe, William of California, Mrs. M. A. Carroll of Charleroi, and Mrs. Walter Dryburg of Denbo. Twenty-six grandchildren and three great grandchildren also survive, as well as one sister, Mrs. Katherine McDermott of Homestead.

Funeral services will take place Thursday morning with requiem high mass in St. Joseph's church, followed by interment in Calvary cemetery, Coal Center.

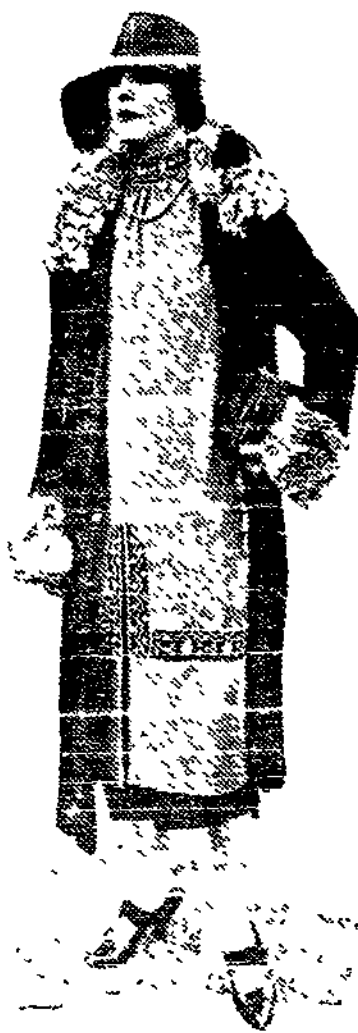

HEALTH BOARD ENDORSES THE MILK ORDINANCE

Charleroi Board of Health at a special session last night went on record by voting affirmatively in the new milk ordinance as adopted by Washington, Monongahela, Monessen and other places. The ordinance is drawn by the State Board of Health and will be submitted to the Charleroi council urging its adoption. The vote of the members of the local health board last night:

Yea, W. L. Evans, president; John N. O'Neil, secretary; W. Glunt, Dr. J. K. Smith; nay, William Murphy.

IMPORTANT WORK AHEAD OF THE NEXT CONGRESS

New York, Nov. 4.—The Congress which within the next two years will vote upon vital national reforms—railroad ownership, farm relief and the supreme court—is being chosen at the polls today.

An entire house of 435 representatives and 32 of the 96 members of the senate are being selected. Hanging in the balance were questions of a serious importance as the disposition of the presidency in question of whether LaFollette will maintain his "balance of power" domination over the new congress like he has held the present one, the question of whether the Democrats can gain sufficient strength to put through their own laws, no matter who is president, and the possibility that the Republican party might regain a working majority that would enable them to put over their program.

Reports from all quarters while the LaFollette group would surely hold their own and that the Democrats might better their representation in each house with a vague chance of obtaining absolute control.

DISEASED ADENOIDS BRING MANY EVILS

Survey Shows Operations Beneficial in Many Ways.

Washington.—An investigation made to determine the average result of operations for the removal of enlarged tonsils and adenoids has recently been carried out at Leicester, England. In a report, reproduced by the United States public health service, on a series of operations on unselected cases at the school clinic at Leicester, J. Keen, aural surgeon to the Leicester education committee, gives the results with regard to the following conditions of the child: Mental condition, symptoms, surgical results, increase in height and weight and malnutrition. Complete reports were furnished by the teachers for 668 children. Definite weight and height measurements were made for a period before and after operations and the child's mental progress was ascertained from the teachers. The reports from the teachers showed an improvement in particular, as follows: A reduction of 82 per cent in the number of children whose attendances were irregular. A reduction of 34 per cent in the number of those who were retarded in school work. A reduction of 45 per cent in those appearing deaf to the teachers. A reduction of 82 per cent of those classified as dull.

Beneficial Results.
While it is noted that observation of symptoms may not be considered important because of the subjective character of the information and because any form of active treatment is likely to be regarded as beneficial, it is stated that in 600 cases for which were records complete, only 4 per cent were said to be not improved under the headings 'Coughs and Colds,' 'Breathing' and 'General Health.' "In those cases in which the hearing was impaired (about 50 per cent of the whole), only about 3 per cent were stated to be unchanged. The remaining 97 per cent of the total number were improved.

"No case of excessive scarring interfering with phonation was noted, and vestiges of tonsils remained in only 8 per cent of the cases. "The weight and height results were tabulated according to sex and age groups—four to thirteen years—and compared with figures given in the Tuxford and Glass tables for urban districts. For each age group for both boys and girls the percentage of average increase was greater than that given in the tables used for comparison.

Conclusions.
"For determining malnutrition, the Wood standard tables were used, and all children under 10 per cent of the average 'right' weight were considered to be suffering from malnutrition. While the objections to such an index were considered and it is believed that, although the absolute number indicated as malnourished may not necessarily be accurate, the change in the ratio of cases before and after treatment would be free from the personal factor and would be of definite value.

"It was shown that the number of malnourished children was reduced in every age group. The percentage reduction was 44 in the boys and 41 in the girls. Since the prevailing economic conditions in the homes of these children remained practically the same during the period of the study, it was considered logical to credit the improvement to the removal of the diseased tonsillar and adenoid tissue in the children concerned. In view of the fact a septic focus or the continuous swallowing of mucus from the nasopharynx delays the assimilation and absorptive capacity of the alimentary canal.

"Although the number of children dealt with is comparatively small, unselected cases in a continuous series of routine work were considered, and it is remarked that whether the average increases in height and weight are considered, or whether malnutrition is used as an index, the results point consistently to the conclusion that this operation is followed by clearly definite improvements to the general health and physique, quite apart from the relief which the treatment affords to more local symptoms."

Signs Bad Check to Learn What Jail Is Like

New Haven.—Forty days in jail was the sentence meted out in the police court to Dudley Shannon MacKenzie, twenty, who, posing as a sociological investigator, was charged with passing fraudulent checks on four local merchants. He claimed a Yale faculty member had advised him to get arrested to secure intimate experience as a jail inmate. MacKenzie gave his home address as Washington, D. C., and said he had been a student at Oberlin college.

MacKenzie was arrested at his room in Yale dormitory where he had a card record of results of his investigation of local institutions. He had announced his intention to enter the Yale divinity school this fall.

Moscow to Tax Visitors to Build Toilers' Homes

Moscow.—Visitors to Moscow will hereafter be taxed from $50 to $150. This measure, which was proposed by the Moscow soviet, is designed to prevent further overcrowding of the Russian capital, which is exceeding all bounds. The money will go toward building homes for the working population. It is not yet clear whether the regulation will apply to Americans and other foreigners visiting Russia.

The medicine to fight the deadly pestilence that has taken a toll of 25 lives in the California city, was manufactured by the H. K. Mulford Laboratories here.

The reason some heads never get a call to higher things, is because opportunity never knocks on wood.

Talk may be cheap but nearly every aged millionaire knows that letters are expensive.

AN ARMY

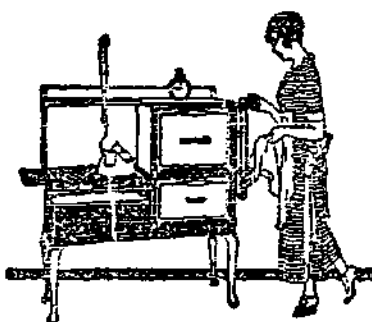

is no stronger than its lines of communication. Let one part of it be cut off from its supply and you know what happens.

No organ of your body is stronger than the nerve supply it receives from the brain. If this is partially cut off by pressure on certain nerves at the point where they leave the spine, the part supplied by the pinched nerve is bound to be diseased.

CHIROPRACTIC ADJUSTMENTS scientifically release the pressure, complete communications are established and the battle for health is won. Ask about the Neurocalometer. It positively indicates the point of pressure and shows when it has been released.

FAIR WEATHER IS GENERAL TODAY

here today, but a forecast of fair and warmer promised a record vote.

Many people were waiting at polling places throughout the city as the voting booths were thrown open.

New Ashford, Mass., Nov. 4.—First returns in today's national election were recorded here half an hour after the polls opened. The result was: Coolidge, 20.

There were 30 registered voters in New Ashford, but one was ill and the other five were out of town. The entire 24 voting lined up at the polls at 6:30 a. m., and less than an hour later the election board announced the result.

Four years ago there were 36 registered voters and the result was: Harding, 23
Cox, 6.
In 1916, the result was:
Hughes, 16.
Wilson 7.

Chicago, Nov. 4.—A record breaking vote was forecast for Chicago as the day dawned clear and cool and thousands of persons took advantage of the six o'clock opening to cast their ballots.

Approximately 1,100,000 persons are on the registration lists here and hundreds of organizations are working to see that the full vote is cast.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 4.—With ideal autumn weather prevailing fair and cool, voters of Wisconsin were expected to cast the largest vote in the history of the Badger state.

Philadelphia, Nov. 4.—Election day in eastern Pennsylvania dawned partly cloudy. Voting the first hour was fairly heavy, reports from the various districts said.

When the polls opened in Philadelphia at 7 a. m. for the 480,224 registered voters, lines were waiting at the booths.

The heavy early vote in Philadelphia will mean a plurality of between 200,000 and 300,000 here for President Coolidge and Gen. Dawes, Thomas Watson, chairman of the Republican city committee, estimated.

St. Louis, Nov. 4.—Missouri voters, more than a million strong, went to the polls today from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m., balloting for president, members of congress, state, county, and local officers.

The vote will set a record of 1,325,000, it was estimated.

The weather was fair everywhere and temperature moderate, a record vote being forecast by election officials.

RECOMMENDED BY HER DOCTOR

Found Strength by Taking
Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Kankakee, Illinois.—"My mother-in-law always took your medicine for weakness, and then in the Change of Life it did her so much good that she induced me to take it for a weakness I had for a year and a half. It has strengthened me and now I have a nice baby boy. I do all my own housework now, and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I have the opportunity. I am taking it again for weakness, as my family doctor has recommended it for this purpose."—Mrs. Harry Gorman, 984 N. Harrison Ave., Kankakee, Illinois.

Real Evidence of Merit
For the relief of female weakness, pain, backache, nervousness and irregularities, with other troubles common to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine. Its worth is thoroughly established in the letters as the above. There are no other women who have written so many letters as the above.
